

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A miniature shade includes a shade portion or umbrella having 5 a support extending therefrom, and a flexible base which can be removably attached to an object for shading. There are cooperating fasteners on the support and on the base so that the shade or umbrella can be removably mounted onto the base to shade the object from direct light.

10